To the Editor of the Intelligence.

BEHAVIOR, Nov. 1st, 1893.

Dear Sir: Please find the following reply to Mr. Chown's letter in yesterday's issue of your paper:

Mr. Chown's letter on me last night at the Belleville Business College and declared in a very belligerent manner, supplemented with the statement that I would not publish a letter dictated by him, containing false statements, he would infuse further venom upon me. This contemptible demand made on me was met with a positive refusal. He said, in the manner above mentioned, "You did not see Mr. Stevens until Saturday afternoon."

In reply to this remark, I assured him that I had stated an absolute falsehood. I did not tell him when I saw Mr. Stevens, as I was called on at the very important way in which he addressed me.

It must be quite evident to all impartial readers that Mr. Chown's letter in last Saturday's Intelligence, that he harbored ill-will towards the writer and the Belleville Business College, for if such had not been the fact, being a professed Christian, and President of a Christian association, he would have called on me for an explanation before he published his malicious letter.

I have been told by Mr. Chown, and I very emphatically maintain that the description of his letter, and which had no bearing or relationship whatever to the question at issue, gave him great pleasure; he was much pleased, he said, to have published. This is the part of his letter that he is most proud of, and it is as untruthful as any other in it.

Mr. Chown does not appear to be consistent when he says in his letter of yesterday, speaking of the Y.M.C.A., "We shall be happy to have you speak," for in conversation with me last night he threatened to ignore the arrangement entered into by me with Mr. Stevens, and charged me with the Belleville Business College double the regular fee. I assured him that with the Roman Catholic and Separate School Board will not meet to-night.

The item in yesterday's paper dealing with the new criminal code, should have read "carry" and not "bury".

A REMARKABLE CASE OF MURDER.

Charles Reimer, of Brockton, Pa., Holds Life Insurance on Nearly Five Boys With a Knife Wound in His Back.

On Sunday, Oct. 15, 1893, Chas. Reimer, of Brockton, Pa., a farmer and his wife were invited to the home of one Joseph Lutyanski, a Polish. Reimer and the Polish family accepted the invitation and entered the house of Lutyanski at about 1 o'clock p.m. Reimer, however, did not enter the house without a second invitation, which was given.

The party gathered about a table and partook freely of intoxicants, Reimer refusing to drink more than two or three glasses of beer.

Early in the evening Reimer asked Lutyanski for tobacco to smoke. This was given him and after filling his pipe he laid it on the edge of the table and began reaching for his pocket for a match to light his pipe. Unfortunately the pipe fell from the table and the contents spilled on the floor.

On this Lutyanski became enraged and told Reimer he would have to settle for the tobacco (pipeful). Reimer, thinking Lutyanski was joking, began to return jokes, but unfortunately for Reimer the Polish was craving for Reimer's blood.

The affair took on a serious nature and Reimer defended himself until the Polish reacted to the use of the very weapon.

When struck with the knife Reimer fell and was thrown out of doors. He remained at the door of this house in an almost unconscious condition until the following morning, when he left for his home, about 2 miles distant. He obtained the use of a railroad spooler and worked his way up a steep grade one hand on the lever of the spooler and with the other he held the wound to prevent an excessive loss of blood.

On reaching home he informed his wife that he was stabbed, and she discovered that he had lost a considerable quantity of blood, but it was not known that the wound was fatal, and medical aid was not called until Thursday, Oct. 19th, when the doctor reported that he could not live. Shortly after 11 o'clock on the following day Reimer passed away, and an inquest was called for Saturday.

Dr. Chas. of Sheffield, conducted the autopsy and found that the knife had entered the stomach, had penetrated the peritoneum and entered the left auricle of the heart.

The rights of the Macneches took charge of the corpse and conducted the funeral. On Oct. 20th, the murderer, Joseph Lutyanski, was captured and placed in goal at Toronto, where he will await his trial.

Charles Reimer had lately become a member of Barnard Trust, No. 73, O. T. M., and leave a widow and four children and an endorsement certificate of three thousand dollars for their support.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Herbert Wrightman Came Within an Ace of Meeting a Watery Grave.

Herbert Wrightman, a barber of this city, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday morning about ten o'clock.

He was crossing the bay in a canoe, when the latter upset, precipitating its occupant into the icy water.

Mr. Wrightman was unable to fight the boat and there was nothing left but to make the best of it. He was able to make but little headway against the waves and after remaining in the water for about three quarters of an hour, his predicament was noticed by some fishermen on Owl Island.

They hastened to his rescue. He was found in an almost exhausted condition with his mouth out of the water, and ready to be paralyzed with the cold. A few minutes more and the young man would have been compelled to succumb to his fate. He was taken into his rescuer's boat and conveyed to land, where he speedily recovered under the influence of a fire and dry clothes.

After the meeting of the Patrons of Industry in this city, the Ontario gave an extended and fair report of their proceedings.

The report seems to have been too good for its columns, as another hand has been placed at the bottom of the meeting the proper Grits' twist, and which deserves a passing notice.

he worked that year because of the ill-effects of the N. P., and gave him (Mr. Farley) as his authority. He did not deny it then, when his party leaders were at it, although he knew it was a falsehood.

Then what reliance can be placed upon his sudden conversion to an independent platform, except as it may lead to a change to a Grit Government at Ottawa?

HE SAW MRS. LUCKY KILLED

DAMAGING TESTIMONY AGAINST CHARLES LUCKY.

New Evidence at the Present Trial—The Prisoner Had Threatened to Make it his Duty to Kill the Family—The Principal Witness Too Near to be Cross-Examined.

ROCKVILLE, Nov. 2.—The trial of Charles Lucky for the murder of his mother and sister, opened here yesterday, the day being devoted to the examination of the principal witness.

The first witness called by the Crown was to show that Charles Lucky had threatened to kill the family of the Crown.

Walter Dicks, the Ottawa constable, told the jury that he had seen Charles Lucky at his home at the time of the murder.

Charles Lucky, a witness and a fellow-prisoner with Lucky in the Central, testified that he had several conversations in prison with Lucky, when he knew as much as he could about the case.

James Stewart gave some new and important testimony which will break up the evidence of the defense.

These boots were serious and considerable evidence was adduced last afternoon, showing that the man put on shoes as small as four.

Today, however, this crown witness testified that a pair of slippers produced in court, and which he had seen in the possession of the prisoner, were not his.

PROVEN INNOCENT.

EX-CONVICT MALONEY DID NOT SHOOT ANGELO MCLEOD.

He was Many Miles from the Scene When the Tragedy Occurred—An Indisputable Alibi Established—Result of a Detective's Search in the East—Important Discoveries.

The Kingston News states, in its issue of yesterday, that Edward J. Maloney, ex-convict and desperado, who is at present serving three months in the County Jail, is threatening to shoot the detective who may be a man of dubious character, but he is not the man who on September 14th, 1892, shot and killed Angelo McLeod.

This statement is clear and correct, and is supported by the evidence which is equally clear—it has been established on the strongest possible basis.

The evidence of the investigation will not enter the facts published some time ago which led to Maloney being suspected.

When he visited Maloney in his cell was released at the time. Mr. Vanhook left for the east in order to see whether there was any truth in the ex-convict's story, and he has not yet returned.

NO QUESTION.

There are now in actual use in Canada alone over 45,000 "HAPPY THOUGHT" Ranges. Out of all this number it is questionable if there can be found a single one that is not giving the most perfect and complete satisfaction. If there is such we have yet to hear of it. What better proof of their excellence could you have than this? Be sure that you are not deceived into buying some other range of similar form or name; though there are many imitations there is but one genuine, and it is made by Buck's Stove Works, of Bannockburn, a guarantee in itself of their superior quality and workmanship.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES.

ALBERT COLLEGE STUDENTS SUFFER THREE PULPITS.

Special Y.M.C.A. Services.—The death of John Post—Rev. M. W. Macdonald's Twentieth Anniversary—Rev. H. Marshall in Labrador.

Mr. O. R. Dobbs, of Port Huron, Ont., addressed the afternoon meeting of the Y.M.C.A. yesterday.

Yesterday and this week is set apart by the annual convention of the Young Men's Christian Association as a day and week of prayer for our youth. This is generally observed by the associations throughout the world.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. R. Marshall, who was preaching anniversary services in Lakeside yesterday, the pulpit of the Baptist church was filled yesterday morning by Mr. Neil, of Albert College, and in the evening by Rev. H. Marshall, of the Merchants House. Both discourses were listened to by attentive congregations.

Mr. Kenney, of Albert College, preached a fine sermon in the Temperance yesterday morning. The pastor, Rev. D. O. Crowley, presided in the evening, taking for his subject, "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit."

At the close of his sermon, Mr. Kenney referred to the death of John Post. One of the last messages left by the deceased to his friends was not to neglect their souls.

Mr. F. L. Brown, of Victoria University, formerly student in Albert College, preached to a large congregation in West Belleville Methodist church yesterday morning.

It was not his first appearance in the Hallway St. which brought as the pleasing reward of bright, helpful intercourse with earnest followers of Him "who went about doing good." It was satisfactory to restore from officers and delegates the assurance that our arrangements for their comfort were as nearly perfect as at any previous convention.

A large amount of literature was circulated at the Bay of Quinte fair, where it was gratefully received and carried into many country homes and over stocked with reading matter. The brackets provided by our Union at the railway station and fire hall have been kept supplied with suitable leaflets for passengers awaiting trains or employees when off duty. The good accomplished through this agency cannot be estimated until the records of all hearts are made known. Pamphlets, containing correct facts, scriptural books, and useful literature, were also sent to lumbermen engaged in the backwoods of country, and several names were by this means secured to the pledge cards which were sent.

Seven prizes were again awarded to pupils of the Public schools who obtained the highest number of marks in scientific temperance, the Union taking the lead in the matter, seconded by the Inspector and teachers.

At the beginning of the municipal year we operated with the "Citizens League" in endeavoring to get men of character elected to the City Council, who would carry out the wishes of the rate payers by reducing the number of liquor saloons.

The speaker, after referring to the responsibility of the rank and file for the performance of their personal duty in the church, Christ has put us here to shed honor to His name and He gives the right direction to our powers though our lower nature is filled with sin. To the man who is regenerated, spiritual good is the dominating influence. Even as the body, so the church has need of spiritual strength. Success depends on unity of purpose—we should not travel in two or four avenues to success at one and the same time. The tired traveler may sometimes faint and fall even as the Old Testament did, but the traveler who is a true Christian will both help and sympathize with those who arrive in this field of service to win Him and to glorify Him on that great day. The evening text was Psalm 1-2, "His delight is in the law of the Lord." The law of the Lord is a positive not a negative religion. Men are too apt to parcel out God's requirements. There is no such thing as a small sin, much that we must take on. We should not morbidly dwell on our feelings—they will not do us good. God himself should impel us to do right. L. L.

The City Hall O.R.C. whilst the Alford and H.B.C. Play a game.

Ten interesting games of football took place at the D. &amp; D. lecture grounds Saturday afternoon. The Alford College and H. B. College fought out a struggle, neither side scored a goal.

The City and O.R.C. then took the field, and when the side was finished, the score stood two to none in favor of the City team.

Albert, on the O.R.C., played a very good game the first half, but lost its match to D. &amp; D., who fielded him at every turn.

O. &amp; R., who played a more usual form. The City had the advantage from the start, but on account of bad play from the first half, failed to score more than twice.

The season's matches were finished on Saturday, but the Mates and City team may be expected when it is played off.

Annual Report.

As each past year by its will to look back upon what has been done, before getting ourselves for renewed labor.

Since the last annual report the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Belleville has kept up patient, persistent efforts for the uplifting of humanity within its sphere.

While all that was aimed at has not been attained, yet we believe, as F. W. Robertson says, that "true work, done honestly and manfully for Christ, never can be failure."

It was our privilege to entertain the Provincial Convention of 1893, a labor of love which brought as the pleasing reward of bright, helpful intercourse with earnest followers of Him "who went about doing good." It was satisfactory to restore from officers and delegates the assurance that our arrangements for their comfort were as nearly perfect as at any previous convention.

A large amount of literature was circulated at the Bay of Quinte fair, where it was gratefully received and carried into many country homes and over stocked with reading matter. BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY NOV 15

MR. FARLEY SPEAKS.

Mr. James M. Farley is fairly bubbling over with rage and indignation at the reference made to him; and he has asked, to lay his case before the public, and call it by name — which, we would remind him, is not argument, but rather the indication of a poor case. He takes exception to our saying that he was on the platform during the general election of 1891, and heard Mr. Olney give him as authority for saying that one-half of the farms in Sidney would not be worked that year.

It would appear that the words "one-half" were incorrect, as the following were used by Mr. Olney: "M. Farley, Revere of Sidney, made the startling statement that at least one-fourth of the farms in Sidney would not be worked at this time because they would not pay."

Mr. Farley says that "he would require better authority than the Intelligencer before he would believe it." We gave it upon the authority of the local Gilt Club, the Ontario. Mr. Farley declines being present at the meeting, but he will not, we presume, deny having read the report of Mr. Olney's speech, in the Ontario, nor did he run the lie down Olney's throat until after the election, when it would do Mr. Olney no harm.

If our report of his speech at the Patrons was incorrect, we would cheerfully make any correction desired; but it is amusing to hear him ask how many Conservative farmers would support the Dominion Government if they would declare themselves in favor of a Reform tariff. In this he gives away the interest of himself and others, as he virtually tells the public that it is the Conservative farmers for whom they are gunning, while he carefully refrains from mentioning the Reform farmers or the position they would take under such circumstances.

No one ventures to say that the low price of grain, here, as elsewhere, does not militate against the propriety of farmers, the remedy for which is to be found in the sale of a so-called Revenue Tariff, but let us compare their condition in one important particular with what it was twenty-five years ago, before that infamous protective tariff on agricultural implements was in force.

Then a cow in the spring was worth from $15.00 to $20.00, with an average of about $18.00; then if a farmer wished to purchase a self-binder he would have to dispose of at least fifteen cows to pay for it.

Now, under a protective tariff, how good daydreams would allow an agent to select two of his best cows in the spring in payment for a self-binder. Is this retrogression or not? Mr. Farley complains that he said that platform was "against public policy." These words had no reference to their policy as a whole, but had reference to their agents' manner of hawking their trade from store to store, which was being done at that time; a course of conduct which we are pleased to see they have since disclaimed.

Our reference to business ability was intended as a suggestion that the farmers of today cannot succeed on the old lines of growing grain only, but must adapt themselves to the circumstances of the age in the same manner as the merchant and manufacturer require to arrange their business to meet changed circumstances of trade; for farmers should remember that the merchant and even manufacturers, whom Mr. Farley derides because in some instances they have amassed fortunes, are running business on a percentage of profit notwithstanding twenty-five years ago. Mr. Farley's incautiousness may suggest what we mean by the case if he is the proprietor. He must not measure our grain in his half bushel.

His reference to all the relatives of the proprietor enjoying some births at the county's expense, is in equal bad taste, and before making such an assertion it would have been well if he had first examined to the facts of the case, when he would have found that the Intelligencer is the property of a joint stock company composed of a number of individuals, none of whose relatives are in the service of the Government.

Mr. Farley is profuse with his reference to the planks of the Patrons of Industry, but is very reticent in referring to the plank that states the Ontario Government, namely the election of officers of the Government, other than Judges.

As a member of the Patrons of Industry he has subscribed to that plank in their platform and he must consider it good for the masses. Yet this is the plank that laid down by Mr. Moreau at the last election, if it is good now it was equally good then, when Mr. Farley recorded his vote against it, and he would doubtless do again if the interest of the Ontario Government was at stake.

The fall of the year is a trying season for elderly people. The many chills, drenching rains, and depression, not to say in autumn, on both old and young. Now is the time to re-embrace the vital energies with Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood medicines.

BELLEVILLE, MONDAY, NOV 20

AN ELECTRIC CITY.

It is remarked by the Hamilton Times that places like Ottawa, Gananoque, Napanee, Belleville, Trenton, Port Hope, Brantford, Oshawa, Paris and London, that are located on river banks, would have a great advantage over their rivals, if the supply of water was as large and steady now as it was when the first mills were erected and the village foundations laid. There is a town in Montana called Great Falls which appears fully entitled to the distinction of being called the Electric City. At Black Eagle Falls, three miles above the town, an immense dam has been thrown across the Missouri, and hydraulic works and power houses erected. Not only are the streets now propelled and lighted by electricity from the power house, but they are heated as well by electric radiators placed in each room. Elevators, printing presses, cranes, and all kinds of machinery are operated by the obligation force. There are automatic excavators, electric pumps and electric rock-crushers. A not uncommon sight on the streets is a mortar miller attached to an electric wire leading down from a pole. The restaurants cook by electricity, the butcher employs it to chop his sausage and hamburger, and the grocer to grind his coffee, and so likewise does the tailor to heat his goods. The public hall is a welcome bazaar in every home. The housewife runs her sewing machine and heat their flat-irons by electricity; they take their cakes in wooden electric cake ovens that can be set away on a shelf like pasteboard boxes; they have electric boilers and broilers, and tea-kettles. What a delightful life is this! The whole town is a glorified electric city, and heating facilities through the instrumentality of a waterfall!

There is a strong incentive in the above for reviving and carrying out the old plan of securing a permanent water power on the Mohr, which is quite practicable, and comparatively inexpensive.

ONTARIO CROPS.

The following yields of crops in Ontario for 1893 have just been compiled from the returns of 2,500 correspondents of the Ontario Bureau of Industries. The yields are slightly lower than those published in August, which were "probable yields," based upon observation. These are "actual yields," based upon weighing results. The November bulletin containing the same, also live stock returns and general information as to the crops, will be issued in a few days.

FRAUD WAS NOT PROVEN.

THE F. &amp; S. BROTHERS IN THE SHAN

NONVILLE DAIRY CASE.

Full Text of the Judgment.—An intricate case involving the rights of the F. &amp; S. Brothers in the Shan Nonville Dairy Case.

From this moment on, the effort of disinterested communities has been to maintain the rights of the F. & S. Brothers in the Shan Nonville Dairy Case.

In the present case, the Crown charges the defendant with using a false weight and defrauding the patrons of the factory in a case like this, one would desire to give a verdict on the merits or demerits of the transaction as disclosed by the evidence.

As it is charged that the defendant was using a false weight, it is necessary to examine the evidence to see whether the defendant was using a false weight and defrauding the patrons of the factory in a case like this, one would desire to give a verdict on the merits or demerits of the transaction as disclosed by the evidence.

It is alleged by the defendant that the lead he applied "balancer," was used simply to balance the milk and milk remaining in the receiving can after each draft and which did not go into the vat but remained in the can, and that the milk left in the can equaled 44 pounds. If "A" placed 100 lbs. of milk in the can and sent it to the factory, the balancer was not used, according to the evidence of defendant, with the first can, and "A" gets credit for all the milk without deduction. When the can with "A" milk is emptied into the receiver, a portion remains in the receiving can. After the use of the balancer, the milk is put on in addition to the other weights. "B" has in the can 200 lbs. and what remains of milk remained in the can after "A" milk was emptied and poured out. It would be the defendant's argument, to give to B the weight of the milk remaining in the can because B does not own that and there fore the balancer is supposed to weigh just the quantity of milk that was in the can before "B" milk was put in, and hence, by the use of the balancer, selling was counterpoised to that quantity of milk. "B" gets precisely the weight of milk he put in the can, and the quantity of milk remaining in the can weighs 44 lbs., and the balancer is used with each patron's milk save the first can, and the balance is done to anyone, assuming that all the milk received goes into cheese, which is taken possession of and sold by the President for the benefit of the patrons. But if the quantity of milk remaining in the can after each draft is less than 44 lbs., then a great injustice is perpetrated. If, for example, only 2 lbs. of milk remain, then 24 lbs. are taken from "A," who sends 100 lbs., only 24 lbs. taken from "B," who sends 200 lbs., the man sending the smaller quantities suffering more considerably than the patrons sending the larger quantities. All suffer, and the fact that in the final outcome the cheese is divided ratably in proportion to the milk sent, does not prevent the loss and injury.

As to whether the defendant would offer any financial benefit under such circumstances would depend on the fact as to whether the patrons obtained all the milk bought and all the cheese manufactured. If they did receive all, then the defendant would not make any money from the use of the balancer, and the only way in which I can conceive the defendant would be benefited would be by acquiring the reputation of making a large quantity of cheese out of a relatively small quantity of milk.

The question as to whether a quantity of milk weighing 44 lbs. remains after each draft depends upon the evidence. Mr. McGargue, the witness, said that he was a well understood custom with the patrons that 1 lb. or 14 lbs. should be taken out of the can after each draft, and he practices up to the time he began to use the balancer, about a month before the trial. ## AWARDING THE PRIZES.

THE WINNERS IN THE ROYAL ANTIQUARIAN CLUB COMPETITION AWARDED.

The Club Made a Good Record During the Year. Plans for the Future—Game Law

Amendments to be Considered—His use by Political Party and Vice President Hagar—List of the Prize Winners.

Despite the highly unpleasant weather last night, there was a fair gathering of members of the Royal and Stream Club at their club room, the occasion being the awarding of prizes competed for in the Club's competition during the year.

Mr. H. Corby, M.P., President, who presided, made a brief but practical speech in introducing the business of the evening.

The Club, he said, had done effective work during the year. The law had been well observed in this district. There had been some violations, but these, instead of being prosecuted by the Club, had been reported to Mr. H. K. Smith, the Ontario Game Warden, who is a good officer and justice in the discharge of his duty. The game law had worked well, as was evidenced by the fact that deer had been more numerous this season than for many years past, and partridges and ducks were also increasing in numbers.

Mr. Corby also complimented Mr. W. F. Clarke, the Fishery Overseer, as a highly efficient officer and remarked that the Minister of Marine and Fisheries was obliged to credit for the interest which he had taken in our fisheries by having the Fishery Commission sit here, thus giving an opportunity of an opportunity of stating their case. The result would be, he hoped, a satisfactory law next year. After a few other remarks, Mr. Corby distributed the

THE WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

GENTLEMEN,—It gives me great pleasure to meet you at this opening of the last session of this Council for this year, and I think we can look back at the year's work with satisfaction. Since our last meeting we have had a most successful session.

I am sure that I only voice the opinion of this Council when I say we all agree that the work of the year has been a most successful one. I have been a great deal of trouble. I have been by counsel (referred to) that we in this county have the best roads in the province,

all of which were built by the late Mr.

Farman. I hope before the Council adjourns

there will be a motion of condolence passed upon the Council and for the loss of his beloved wife and family in their affliction. Everything has gone smoothly since our last session. I know of nothing of a public nature that requires special report. After the death of Mr. Farman, the Roads Committee appointed

Mr. Biesker Superintendent, and I have learned from him that the work reported necessary to be done at the June session has been accomplished and our roads are in good condition. Some of our large bridges have been rebuilt during the coming year. I have no doubt at this season the business of the Council will be considered in the same pleasant manner that has characterized each session during the year, and that you will give each question our attention and deal with all on their merits.

SKODA'S LITTLE TABLETS.

Cures Headache and Dyspepsia.

As this stage of my letter I can anticipate the derisive remarks that will be made concerning what I have written, and no wonder, for we can all remember how we have time and again been stirred up over this or that matter, perhaps the bridge across the bay, or the possibility of our being situated over an immense gas field, then again an electric railway, or the topic of conversation, this will then give way to another proposition, a connection with the G.P.R., and thus we go from one thing to another. Of all the above schemes none have as yet materialized excepting the bridge bridge project and the bridge stands today a monument to remind us we still have energy, enterprise and capital. For a long time we have been complaining of poverty; we have watched with deep concern our beautiful city slowly but surely retreating and our young men compelled to leave and make a living elsewhere, and we have scarcely done anything to make up for our mistakes, or rather, but mostly almost entirely upon our sentimental friends for business; and now, Mr. Editor,

I am writing you this letter, and I am expecting to get anything, or hope to be anything except a long, old-fashioned letter, and I am writing you this letter, and

I am writing you this letter, and I am writing you this letter, and I am writing you this letter, and I am

A TALK ON CARPETS. MYERS' CAVE A MYTH.

BERRY TAPPING CARS THERE IS NO SUCH CAVEN.

Preston Mineral in the Township of Bertha—A Statement About a Belleville Company and a Park Company and Their Operations.

The Kingston Whig publishes an interview with Rev. Thomas Tapping, of the Township of Bertha. He said that the Township Council would meet on Saturday to decide the leasing of a road which runs through mineral property. A letter to the mining company discovered a vein of ore called "Myers' Cave" which was supposed to be a mine. The company had a lot of ore was mined, when the company bought the land from the Township. The Township Council decided that the road was to be leased to the Township. The reasons why we sell carpets so much cheaper than others do, give such value for the money, and show so good a selection of patterns are these—

We buy direct from the manufacturers and pay no commission.

We buy in such large quantities that we make it an object to the manufacturers to sell to us and to get better prices.

We select our patterns and have them made for us, with different widths of borders and their carpets to match.

We take advantage of every break in the market to secure bargains for our customers. It is not the women whom most purchasers in this line are made, and for that very reason it is the best time for customers to come in. On Xmas we have to reduce stock, and are ready to sell at half price for the sake of making money. If you think of buying a carpet and use it, we will give you prices that will make it worth your while to come in.

TARIFF REVISION.

COMMISSIONERS' WOOD AND WALLACE HEAR EVIDENCE.

A Well-attended Hearing—Hastings and Prince Edward—Evidence by Leading Farmers and Manufacturers—Interesting Testimony Given as to the Requirements of the People.

The County Council, attended the enquiry before the Tariff Commissioners in a body yesterday afternoon. Mr. J. O. Hastings, of Ross, was the first witness called. He was in favor of the abolition of the duty on corn. He claimed that the duty on pork did not cost the price of it. He would not, however, take off the duty on pork without the United States gave Canada a more equivalent. With some exceptions on trade and coffee, he did not believe in free trade in any other goods. He would bring down the price. He preferred direct taxation to anything else. In the next best thing he would be in favor of free trade absolutely, so it exists in England.

Mr. Charles Kochman was in favor of free trade as much as possible. He would raise the revenue on raw materials, such as wool, cotton, sugar, the necessities of life. Mr. Kochman insisted several articles in the tariff which should be less than they did in Canada.

Mr. L. W. Youmans had been requested by the Board of Trade of Belleville, to draw the attention of the Commissioners to the necessity of a reduction or the abolition of duty on coal oil and bituminous coal. Mr. Youmans drew the attention of the Commissioners to the fact that there were over two hundred medicinal herbs in this district and while all of these herbs were not used in the drug stores, one made it a business to collect them, although industries of this nature were carried on in the United States. He did not know, but he believed with an increased duty on such herbs would pay in Belleville. On the same principle as quinine, opium should also be on the free list. Opium used for medicinal purposes.

Mr. John Stokes was in favor of three cents duty per bushel on all kinds of pork. As to oats, peas, barley, etc., he would not favor the abolition of duty. He would like to see the duty removed from corn provided the Americans reduced the duty on barley proportionately. It would be greatly to the advantage of farmers. To be successful to day the farmer should properly be a manufacturer. In this connection corn fed to stock might be sold to be a raw material. He was not in favor of free trade or direct taxation. He would increase the duty on luxuries and reduce it as much as possible on the necessities of life.

Mr. Wm. Clarke, of Thurlow, testified that the farmers in his township were principally grain growers. They were in favor of the reduction of the duty on the necessities of life. He raised his own corn. Would not reserve the duty on pork, beef, or grain, was opposed to free trade and direct taxation.

Mr. Wellington Boulton, of Platon, was also in favor of the reduction of the duty on the necessities of life. He was practically interested in farming. He had listened to the evidence of the farmers and he believed the appointment of the Commissioners by the Government was a good idea. He was surprised to hear some of the intelligent farmers want the duty removed from everything and then shrink their right to their fair assessment of tax. He did not think the Commissioners had any right to remove the duty on corn to the same extent that Americans had levied it on barley. Protection had given Canada in the east a market in British Columbia, which without protection would be usurped by American manufacturers.

Mr. James M. Farley, of Sidney, was in favor of duty for revenue only, which Mr. Wood pointed out was the policy of the Government.

Since Mr. Farley had made himself so conspicuous in his advocacy of the Tariff Commissioners, he was asked to give his opinion on the duty on corn. He was in favor of the duty on corn, but he was not in favor of the duty on corn. He was in favor of the duty on corn, but he was not in favor of the duty on corn.

Mr. L. W. Youmans had been requested by the Board of Trade of Belleville, to draw the attention of the Commissioners to the necessity of a reduction or the abolition of duty on coal oil and bituminous coal. Mr. Youmans drew the attention of the Commissioners to the fact that there were over two hundred medicinal herbs in this district and while all of these herbs were not used in the drug stores, one made it a business to collect them, although industries of this nature were carried on in the United States. He did not know, but he believed with an increased duty on such herbs would pay in Belleville. On the same principle as quinine, opium should also be on the free list. Opium used for medicinal purposes.

Mr. John Stokes was in favor of three cents duty per bushel on all kinds of pork. As to oats, peas, barley, etc., he would not favor the abolition of duty. He would like to see the duty removed from corn provided the Americans reduced the duty on barley proportionately. It would be greatly to the advantage of farmers. To be successful to day the farmer should properly be a manufacturer. In this connection corn fed to stock might be sold to be a raw material. He was not in favor of free trade or direct taxation. He would increase the duty on luxuries and reduce it as much as possible on the necessities of life.

Mr. Wm. Clarke, of Thurlow, testified that the farmers in his township were principally grain growers. They were in favor of the reduction of the duty on the necessities of life. He raised his own corn. Would not reserve the duty on pork, beef, or grain, was opposed to free trade and direct taxation.

Mr. Wellington Boulton, of Platon, was also in favor of the reduction of the duty on the necessities of life. He was practically interested in farming. He had listened to the evidence of the farmers and he believed the appointment of the Commissioners by the Government was a good idea. He was surprised to hear some of the intelligent farmers want the duty removed from everything and then shrink their right to their fair assessment of tax. He did not think the Commissioners had any right to remove the duty on corn to the same extent that Americans had levied it on barley. Protection had given Canada in the east a market in British Columbia, which without protection would be usurped by American manufacturers.

Mr. James M. Farley, of Sidney, was in favor of duty for revenue only, which Mr. Wood pointed out was the policy of the Government.

Since Mr. Farley had made himself so conspicuous in his advocacy of the Tariff Commissioners, he was asked to give his opinion on the duty on corn. He was in favor of the duty on corn, but he was not in favor of the duty on corn. He was in favor of the duty on corn, but he was not in favor of the duty on corn.

TARIFF REVISION.

COMMISSIONERS' WOOD AND WALLACE HEAR EVIDENCE.

A Well-attended Hearing—Hastings and Prince Edward—Evidence by Leading Farmers and Manufacturers—Interesting Testimony Given as to the Requirements of the People.

The County Council, attended the enquiry before the Tariff Commissioners in a body yesterday afternoon. Mr. J. O. Hastings, of Ross, was the first witness called. He was in favor of the abolition of the duty on corn. He claimed that the duty on pork did not cost the price of it. He would not, however, take off the duty on pork without the United States gave Canada a more equivalent. With some exceptions on trade and coffee, he did not believe in free trade in any other goods. He would bring down the price. He preferred direct taxation to anything else. In the next best thing he would be in favor of free trade absolutely, so it exists in England.

Mr. Charles Kochman was in favor of free trade as much as possible. He would raise the revenue on raw materials, such as wool, cotton, sugar, the necessities of life. Mr. Kochman insisted several articles in the tariff which should be less than they did in Canada.
